

Biography

Eric Maagdenberg, MScBA.

Eric Maagdenberg, is a seasoned business professional with 21 years of expert leadership experience in senior general management, strategy, consulting and major projects and change programs. In addition to holding a Master of Science in Business Administration from the Erasmus University Rotterdam, Eric has extensive experience in and deep understanding of global businesses gained within small-to-medium and large sized organizations in a wide range of industries. He is recognized as being an out-of-the-box, strategic thinker with the ability to get to the heart of the issue and is adept in finding creative solutions to create sustainability and growth and to execute and bring projects from strategy to ROI. As a manager, Eric is a collaborative leader who empowers others to succeed, providing the environment and motivation to help them excel. He is skilled in building strong relationships as well as the ability to mobilize efforts.

Eric has provided senior leadership in the financial Industry at ING insurance head office in the Netherlands excelling as an agent of change in various large scale projects. Moreover, his ability to analyze matters broadly as well as in more constrained scenarios enabled him to act in the consultancy field as a Senior Consultant advising in a range of industries. Besides being a results-oriented individual and accomplished in delivering strategic analysis and recommendations, Eric's natural entrepreneurial skills have enabled him to be successful in setting-up (and selling) his own profitable businesses. Drawing on this body of experience and his innate ability to be a performance-driven 'catalyst for (strategic) change, business growth and innovation', Eric has now founded Sixth Sense Consultancy Inc. ('SSC') with two locations (in North America in Toronto, Canada and in Europe in Haren, The Netherlands).

SSC is an interim and consulting services firm predicated on ground breaking future-based Enterprise Risk Management , Stakeholder Analysis and Strategic Planning principles providing companies with advice, interim services and training. The firm is designed to help businesses and organisations identify and assess critical issues and blockages in either their operations or strategy that prevent them from reaching their full potential and expose them to risk. SSC works with them to develop and implement change strategies that eliminate obstructions plus deliver and sustain profits and accelerate growth.

In addition to his professional dedication and achievements, Eric is committed to his family and his community by amongst others, coaching his daughter's hockey team and joining the Board of Directors of the CNBPA (Canadian Netherlands Business and Professional Association) with the goal of being more actively involved in the Torontonion professional community.